SEVEN GENERALS

however, buried it on an inside page.

In commenting on the message the independent, which is controlled by the government, says:

"The man at the White House has tried to affirm again the truth universally conceded that President Wilson is losing sympathy every day and that his fall is to be expected. It was hardly believed that President Wilson would have the temerity to assert such a thing. He thereby gives testimony of his lack of faith toward things Mexican." The imperialist says: "From a good source, it is known that some of the foreign ministers accredited to Washington criticized the message severely. They say it would be impossible to guarantee the re-establishment of peace and good government in Mexico if Provisional President Huerta, whose vigorous efforts at the pacification of the country are well known, should leave the presidency.

El Paso, the most independent of the Mexican newspapers, says: "President Wilson's words are so injurious and depressing and at the same time so chivalrous, he makes against the Mexican president are so unjust that it is preferable to pass them by in silence in order not to weaken anti-American sentiment in Mexico."

Only vague impressions of the actual contents of the message were conveyed by the brief extracts published in the newspapers. The general conclusion was that President Wilson intends to keep his hands off and leave Provisional President Huerta at the mercy of his enemies. To the administration and its agents this course is satisfactory. It declared today that since hope of recognition is gone, all they desire is to let alone. The fact that no recognition is accorded to the rebels in message seems to be a great relief to the followers of Huerta.

COLOMBIAN CONGRESS LAMENTS ROOSEVELT

Mexico City, Dec. 3.—The Colombian congress severely criticizes former President Roosevelt in communication cable to the Mexican senate and chamber of deputies today. It arraigns Colonel Roosevelt and the governmental methods of the United States.

The communication was so, it is explained, "as a protest against intermediation in Latin American affairs by the colonias of the north. The communication was considered in secret session at which it was decided to lay it on the table.

RURAL GUARDS HAVE SHARP FIGHT WITH ZAPATISTAS

Mexico City, Dec. 3.—A sharp fight occurred today only a few miles from the federal capital between a small detachment of rural guards and a body of followers of Emiliano Zapata. The rural guards returned the fire of the rebels for twenty minutes, after which the rebels are said to have fled to the hills. The casualties of both parties numbered ten dead and twenty or thirty wounded.

CARRANZA SILENT ON FEDERAL PARLEY OFFER

Hermosillo, Mexico, Dec. 3.—General Carranza declined today to comment on the news from Juarez that several federal generals were sending commissioners to treat with the revolutionists.

"You will see whether I receive them when the time comes," said the constitutionalist commander.

The news that Chihuahua had offered itself as a rebel prize was received with satisfaction by constitutionalist leaders who consider it proof of the falling of General Huerta's military power.

There was some doubt as to Carranza's attitude should the federal commanders wish to ally themselves with the revolutionary movement. At the beginning of the present revolution Carranza allowed thirty days in which he would accept such offers.

The only former federal army officer prominently connected with the revolution is General Felipe Angeles, secretary of war in Carranza's provisional cabinet. He was one of the few regular army generals who upheld President Madero and never recognized the Huerta government.

REPUBLICAN LEADER MANN DOESN'T DESIRE WAR

Washington, Dec. 3.—During debate in the house today on the Hay bill for raising volunteer forces in time of actual or threatened war, Republican Leader Mann said:

"I don't see any escape from chaos and anarchy in Mexico under the plan we are now pursuing. If this situation runs on very much longer it means war. I hope we will avoid trouble with Mexico."

FACTS AND FICTION.

Experiences of Albuquerque Citizens Are Easily Proven to Be Facts.

The most superficial investigation will prove that the following statement from a resident of Albuquerque is true. Read it and compare evidence from Albuquerque people with testimony of strangers living so far away you cannot investigate the facts of the case. Many more citizens of Albuquerque endorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

H. R. Schuster, 3004 E. Edith St., Albuquerque, N. M., says: "In my work it is frequently necessary to do some heavy lifting. This constant strain began to tell on me. I had sharp twinges in the small of my back. I had headaches and dizzy spells and was in bad shape. I had often heard Doan's Kidney Pills recommended and I gave them a trial. The first box strengthened my kidneys and drove away all the aches and pains. Since then, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills when I have needed a good kidney medicine and they have never failed me." OLD ALBUQUERQUE TEACHERS MAY WAIT FOR PAY Financial Stringency Due to Delayed Collection of Taxes Results in Turning Down of Salary Warrants.

That the county of Bernalillo, like the state of New Mexico, is facing a serious financial stringency, due to the delayed collection of taxes, was indicated yesterday when County Treasurer Mike Mandell was forced to refuse payment of the salary warrants issued to the school teachers of Precinct 12, Old Albuquerque.

This is the first time in many years that the Old Albuquerque school district, the richest in the county outside of the city, has been without funds to promptly meet its expenses. The shortage this year is due to the delay in the collection of taxes. Usually the taxes commence to come in in October and heavy payments are made in November. This year, because of the many changes in the assessment rolls ordered by the state board of equalization, the tax rolls have not yet reached the treasurer's office and no taxes have been collected, although the first half of the 1932 taxes, under the law, became delinquent on December 1.

Assessor Hoya hopes to complete the necessary changes in his books and have them in the hands of the assessor in time for the collection of taxes commencing January 2, but the threatened action by the Albuquerque board of education, which seeks to compel the assessor to include certain property outside the city for assessment for school purposes in Albuquerque may further complicate the situation and cause additional delay.

The various tax suits now pending before the state supreme court, and especially the one concerning the collecting of delinquent taxes, have also caused a serious falling off in the usual collections of past due taxes. County Treasurer Mandell expects to be able to pay the warrants turned down yesterday before the end of the month with the revenue which will come in with the payment of licenses.

California Woman Seriously Alarmed
"A short time ago I contracted a severe cold which settled on my lungs and caused me a great deal of annoyance. I would have had coughing spells and my lungs were so sore and inflamed I began to be seriously alarmed. A friend recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saying she had used it for years. I bought a bottle and it relieved my cough the first night, and in a week I was rid of the cold and soreness of my lungs," writes Miss Marie Gerber, Sawtelle, Cal. For sale by all druggists.

SOUTHWESTERN MAY BE ALLOWED TO USE HONDO WATER

Believed That United States Will Grant Permission for Temporary Diversion to Care for Water Shortage.

WILL NOT AFFECT STATUS OF PENDING LITIGATION

United States District Attorney Sumner Burkhardt returned this morning from El Paso, where for the past two days he has been in conference with officials of the El Paso and Southwestern railway, officials of the treasury department, forest officials and reclamation service officials, looking to a temporary adjustment of the long standing suit of the government against the railroad to restrain the railroad from diverting the waters of the north fork of the Hondo river in Lincoln county.

Several years ago the El Paso and Southwestern company undertook to divert the waters of the chief tributary of the Hondo east of Carrizozo, Lincoln county, and pipe the water through the mountains to its line at Carrizozo and other points the water to be used for its locomotives. The railroad company had had great trouble with the local water supply and the clear mountain water solved one of its chief operating problems.

The United States reclamation service protested against the diversion of the water supply for the Hondo project near Roswell. They were joined in the protest by people along the Hondo in Lincoln and Chavez counties who claimed the diversion would deprive them of prior irrigation rights, and by the treasury department, which held that the diversion might affect the water supply of the marine hospital at Fort Stanton. The suit followed and has been in the courts ever since.

Recently the railroad has been having a serious water shortage along its line in eastern New Mexico and the situation has become serious. The conference this week in El Paso was to determine whether or not the government could give permission for a temporary diversion of the water to ride the railroad over its period of short water supply, it now being necessary to haul practically all water used by the locomotives from El Paso to Tucuman.

There were present at the conference Mr. Burkhardt, attorneys for the railroad, District Forester A. C. Ringland, J. F. McGowan and Captain James B. Adams, representing the forest service, Superintendent Hill of the reclamation service and Superintendent Smith, representing the marine hospital at Fort Stanton.

With the stipulation that the temporary diversion asked would not affect the status of the pending litigation, it was the opinion of those present that it should be granted, and a recommendation to that effect has been forwarded to the treasury department by Superintendent Smith of the Marine hospital, who holds that it will not affect the water supply at Fort Stanton. With the permission of the treasury department, which it is expected will be given, Judge Pope probably will issue an order permitting the temporary diversion of the water of the north fork of the Hondo.

FOREST NOTES

In proportion to its weight, California red wood is the strongest lumber so far tested at the United States forest products laboratory. This strength is due to its long wood fibers.

The Philippine bureau of forestry reports that American and European lumbermen are trying to secure large and regular shipments of Philippine woods, mainly for cabinet making.
